

LOCHRANZA CENTRE CASE STUDY

St George's School for Girls, Edinburgh

Reason for Visit

S3 and S4 pupils travel to the Lochranza Centre for a tutored field trip as part of the course work towards their Geography GCSE. They have returned to the Centre for over ten years because of its uniquely convenient access to a variety of landscapes on it's doorstep. They travel with between 30 and 50 pupils which the Centre can easily accommodate in its stunning rural location.

Field Study Experience

The customer experience at all points of contact from the Centre is excellent. This is not just the experienced tutors who are educated in their subjects and have incredible knowledge of the study areas. This is also true of the office team who are incredibly flexible and helpful throughout the booking process. Travel to the Centre is easy and the pupils get the benefit of experiencing this memorable location and safety of the island.

Benefits to Pupils

The location of this Centre provides the girls with a freedom to explore and to take a variety of abstract study into a physical experience. Being their together with the mix of mountain, coast, river, and glens and simply incredible beauty of the area creates a memory for them they will not forget.
